DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/21/2002 has been entered.
2. Currently claims 1-29 are pending, claims 6,8-10, and 22-29 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a non-elected subject matter. Applicant is reminded to cancel all non-elected claims.
3. Claims 2,3,5,7 and 11-21 are examined on the merits.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The Information Disclosure Statement filed 10/26/2002 (paper no. 26) is acknowledged and considered. A signed copy of the IDS is attached hereto.

Claim Rejections Withdrawn- 35 USC § 112

5. The rejections of claims 2,3, and 5 under 35 USC 112, 1st paragraph as lacking proper written description is withdrawn in view of the arguments set forth by the applicant.

Claim Rejections Withdrawn- 35 USC § 112

6. The rejections of claims 2,3, and 5 under 35 USC 112, 1st paragraph as lacking an enabling disclosure is withdrawn in view of the arguments set forth by the applicant.

New Claim Rejections- 35 USC § 112

7. Claims 2,3,5, and 11-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Vas-Cath Inc. V. Mahurkar, 19 USPQ2d 1111, clearly states that “applicant must convey with reasonable clarity to those skilled in the art that, as of the filing date sought, he or she was in possession of the invention. The invention is, for purposes of the ‘written description’ inquiry, whatever is now claimed.” (See page 1117). The specification does not “clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [he or she] invented what is claimed.” (See Vas-Cath at page 1116).

Applicant is reminded that Vas-Cath makes clear that the written description provision of 35 USC 112 is severable from its enablement provision (see page 115).

The claims of the instant invention are drawn to an isolated polypeptide that comprises an amino acid of SEQ ID No: 6. It appear from the specification that SEQ ID No: 6 is a polypeptide fragment that can be found as part of a larger protein yet to be described. However, the specification has not disclosed any other portions or parts of the the larger protein from which the instant invention intends to encompass within its claims. The specification has not taught the specific amino acid sequences which may flank either sides of the peptide fragment of SEQ ID No: 6. As such, the specification has only taught SEQ ID No: 6 and no other.

Art Unit: 1642

Furthermore, although drawn specifically drawn to the DNA art the findings of The Regents of the University of California v. Eli Lilly (43 USPQ2d 1398-1412) are clearly applicable to the instant rejection. The court held that a generic statement which defines a genus of nucleic acids by only their functional activity does not provide an adequate written description of the genus. The court indicated that while Applicants are not required to disclose every species encompassed by a genus, the description of a genus is achieved by the recitation of a representative number of DNA molecules, usually defined by a nucleotide sequence, falling within the scope of the claimed genus. At section B(1), the court states that "An adequate written description of a DNA...requires a precise definition, such as by structure, formula, chemical name, or physical properties', not a mere wish or plan for obtaining the claimed chemical invention".

Therefore only an isolated polypeptide molecule having an amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO. 6 meets the written description provision of 35 USC 112, first paragraph.
